Cherise Castle-Blugh

Cherise Castle-Blugh wears many caps, among them, artist, educator, jewellery designer, wife, mother, freelance labour law consultant, Lay Minister and now author. Her passions are writing and entrepreneurship, both of which blossomed early in her adolescent years. With over twenty six years' experience in business management, marketing and sales, Mrs. Castle-Blugh has just begun to share her aggregate of writings.

The Timely Entrepreneur provides would be entrepreneurs with the 'soft-skills' required for effectively starting and running a business, especially in uncertain socio-economic times. Mrs. Castle-Blugh endeavours to share her struggles, fears and mistakes made along the journey to success. Through recognition that starting one's business can be demoralizing and frightening she sets out to provide the tools necessary for one to monetize and grow a successful business.
